Floating Lantern Level 3 Common
You hang this lantern on the empty air, where it floats under your command.
Property: This lantern casts light in a 10-square radius, and it never needs lighting or refilling. When you let go of the lantern, it continues to hang in the air where you leave it. If weight in excess of ½ kg. is applied to the lantern, it falls to the ground. Any creature holding the floating lantern or adjacent to it can set its light to be bright (10-square radius), dim (5-square radius), or off as a minor action. As a move action, the last creature to hold the lantern can mentally command it to move up to 10 squares in any direction, but not more than 10 squares from the commanding creature.

Everlasting Provisions Level 4 Common
Property: After an extended rest, you open the basket, creating enough food and water to feed five Medium or Small creatures (or one Large creature) for 24 hours.

Bag of Holding Level 5 Uncommon
This item appears to be a simple sack of brown canvas.
Property: This bag can hold up to 100 kg in weight or 600 liters in volume, but it always weighs only ½ kg. Drawing an item from a bag of holding is a minor action.

When struck, this chime rings out with a magical tone that opens locks.
Power (Standard Action ✦ Daily): When you strike the chime of opening, you direct it to open a single locked door, chest, gate, or other object within 5 squares of you and remove any traps upon that object. The chime makes a single Thievery check with a +10 bonus against all the DCs required to open the object and disable any traps on it. Depending on the DCs, it is possible for the chime to unlock an object but not disable the traps on it (or vice versa), or to disable some traps but leave others intact.
Level 15: +20 bonus. Level 25: +30 bonus.

Arcane Key Level 6 Uncommon
Using this silver key when performing Arcane Lock allows you to seal the door from afar.
Properties: You can use this item as an optional focus for the Arcane Lock ritual. When you do, you can seal or unseal the object sealed by the ritual using the at-will power of this item. You can use this item as an optional focus for the Knock ritual. When you do, for up to 5 minutes after completing the ritual, you can relock or reseal the object affected by the Knock ritual as though you had never opened it, even to the point of automatically replacing an Arcane Lock at its original strength. Doing so requires a minor action.
Power (Minor Action ✦ At-Will): You deactivate or reactivate an Arcane Lock bound to this item, no matter how far you are from it, even if you are on another plane.

Crystal Ball Level 8 Rare
The vestiges of past, present, and future swirl within this gleaming crystal orb when you view it.
Property: While you have the crystal ball in your possession, you gain a +4 bonus to Arcana checks for scrying rituals.
Power (Standard Action ✦ Daily): By peering into the crystal ball, you can get a glimpse of a creature, object, or location within 100 squares of you. When you view a subject through the crystal ball, you see and hear the immediate area around the subject until the end of your next turn as if you were standing beside it. Your perception of the area is with your normal senses and vision, and you might need to make Perception checks to note specific features of the area. If the subject moves, your point of perception moves with it. A creature being scried upon, or within 5 squares of the subject being viewed with the crystal ball, can make a Perception check opposed by your Arcana check. On a successful Perception check, the creature is aware that it is being magically observed, and it might take steps to thwart your observation. However, it is not automatically aware that you are the one observing it. Level 18: The subject of your scrying can be within 100 miles of your location.
Level 28: The subject of your scrying can be anywhere on your plane. Sustain Standard: The effect persists until the end of your next turn.

Burrow-Ward Blade Level 8 Uncommon
This enchanted ornamental blade alerts you when creatures try to enter your hoard from beneath the ground.
Property: You can plant this blade, usually a dagger or a sword, point-first in the ground. After it has remained there for 24 hours, when any creature burrows to a square within 20 squares of the blade (this distance ignores line of effect), the blade emanates a magical intonation only you can hear that indicates the creature's location, including depth. You must be within 40 squares of the blade to hear its warning. If the blade is moved, it ceases to function until it is again planted in the ground and stationary for 24 hours.

Endless Quiver Level 9 Common
Each time you slip your hand inside this quiver, you find the ammunition you need waiting for you.
Property: When you attack with a bow or a crossbow, you can reach into the quiver, causing the quiver to produce a nonmagical arrow or bolt for the attack. Ammunition created by the quiver that is not used within 1 round of its creation disappears. For all other ammunition, the quiver works like a normal item of its type.

The faces of these wooden dice show symbols the halflings associate with good luck.

Sending Stones (pair) Level 11 Uncommon
Each fist-sized round stone bears a Dwarven rune that translates as "Speak."
Power (Standard Action ✦ At-Will): Until the end of your next turn, any person speaking into one stone can be heard by those near the other stone as though he or she were standing in the other stone's place. At the end of your next turn, both stones are exhausted. With a minor action, any character touching a single stone renews the set.
Special: Sending stones normally come in a matched pair attuned to one another. Larger sets of stones attuned to each other can be created (add 50 percent to the base price for each additional stone).

Keoghtom's Ointment Level 12 Uncommon

Immovable Shaft Level 12 Common
This 1-foot-long black metal rod can defy gravity, supporting weight and resisting manipulation.
Power (Minor Action ✦ At-Will): Place the immovable shaft into position. It remains in that spot even if such placement defies gravity. You can reposition the immovable shaft using another minor action, but any other creature seeking to move it must succeed on a DC 25 Strength check and spend a standard action to move it 1 square.

Dust of Appearance Level 13 Uncommon
This plain pouch holds a single handful of sparkling dust, which it periodically renews.
Power (Standard Action ✦ Encounter): Pull a handful of dust from the pouch and throw it into the air (close blast 3). Doing this creates a zone that lasts until the end of the encounter. Powers (Daily): Special. Use this power only during a short or an extended rest. You learn the direction and distance to a fixed location that you have previously visited.

Feather Boat Level 14 Uncommon
The secrets of the feather boat, first created by noble eladrin explorers, have long since passed on to other races.
Power (Standard Action ✦ Daily): By placing this feather in water, you cause the feather to become a long swan-shaped boat. This boat can hold up to five Medium or Small creatures (or two Large creatures). It can be rowed by two creatures at a speed of 4. After 12 hours, or when its user wills it (a minor action), the boat returns to its feather form.

Power (Standard Action ✦ Daily): You call the broom to you from any location within 60 squares of you. As long as the broom is not prevented from moving, it appears in your hand at the start of your next turn. The broom's movement as it moves to you cannot be used to attack or impede any creature.

Property: A true portable hole weighs ½ kg. and is 15 cm. in diameter in its closed state. It can be enlarged to 1.8 m. in diameter or shrunk to its smaller size by folding it as one folds a sheet of cloth. When spread upon any surface, a true portable hole transforms into the mouth of an extradimensional space 3 m. deep, into which items can be placed for storage. When the hole is picked up from the surface, the entrance disappears and anything inside the space remains there. The hole cannot be closed if any creatures are within it. The items that can be placed within the portable hole are limited only by volume—up to a maximum of 1.8 m by 1.8 m. by 3 m.—not by weight.

Glass Eye Level 16 Uncommon
Conceal this glass replica of a bloodshot eye so you can scry the location later.
Power (Minor Action ✦ At-Will): You prime the glass eye and place it somewhere. Until another creature touches the eye or until you end this effect as a free action, you can choose to create your scrying sensor in the glass eye's square with the Wizard's Sight ritual even when the eye is as far away as 100 squares. You can also scry the eye's location using View Location even if the eye's location is not a location you have visited before or it is not fixed in place.

The scenes depicted in this richly embroidered wall hanging seem uncannily realistic.
Property: This tapestry is blank until first used. You can use the View Location ritual by meditating on the desired location in front of the tapestry for 10 minutes. Instead of making an Arcana check, the scrying sensor lasts for 1 round and the DC to detect the sensor is 24. You see the results of the ritual in the tapestry, and when the effect ends, the tapestry retains the last image it displayed until it is next used.

Dimensional Shackles Level 17 Uncommon
These manacles of solid energy glow a brilliant blue when placed upon a foe, effectively shackling the creature to the here and now.
Power (Standard Action ✦ Daily): To place dimensional shackles on an adjacent creature, you make a Strength or a Dexterity melee attack against the target's Reflex. You must have combat advantage against a target to use shackles on it. A creature held by these shackles is restrained and also can't teleport or be teleported. Escaping from the shackles requires a DC 35 Acrobatics check. The shackles automatically adjust to fit any size or shape of creature. As a standard action, any creature other than the one in the shackles can remove them from an adjacent creature.

Globe of Projection Level 18 Uncommon
The image of a roaring dragon is visible in the depths of this blood-red crystal orb.
Property: You can spend 1 hour attuning this large globe to yourself. You must reattune the globe if you move it. Thereafter, you can perform the Hallucinatory Creature ritual by spending 1 minute activating the globe. This functions as the ritual, but the illusion can be of any size, is always an image of you, and cannot travel more than 20 squares from the globe. Instead of making an Arcana check, the number of programmable actions is always 2 minor actions, 2 move actions, and 1 standard action, and the Insight check to pierce the illusion is 30. You can create only one illusory creature at a time with this item.

Property: A greater flying carpet carries creatures and objects at a speed of fly 6 and can hover. A character on the carpet can mentally command it to fly as a move action. Any creature on the carpet takes a –2 penalty to AC and Reflex. The carpet is 1 square by 2 squares and can carry up to two Medium or Small creatures and their gear (up to a normal load for each creature). If additional weight is placed on it, the carpet falls to the ground. If more than one character on the carpet attempts to mentally command it, the carpet responds to each command in turn according to the characters' initiative order.
If no rider is upon it, a greater flying carpet hovers in place 30 cm above the ground if it is unrolled, or sits on the ground if it is rolled up.
